

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 22, 1909

Hippocrates, about four centuries before Christ, wrote of the care of the teeth, and a tomb at Tanagra, of about the same period, has yielded a set of false teeth. Following up ancient dentistry further, Ernesto Mancini, an Italian archaeologist, finds that the art had reached a high development at an earlier time in Assyria, Egypt, Phoenicia and among the Etruscans. Perfectly-adhering gold fillings from mummy teeth of Thebes have been reported by Benzi, though denied by other authorities. In European museums are preserved Phoenician teeth bound together with gold wire. Etruscan gold teeth, and "bridge work" 3,000 years old from Cervetri. A museum of Rome has a plate fitting over three round teeth and having a place for a false tooth. A Florence museum claims the oldest dental work in Italy—a skull with incisors bound with a gold band, and dating probably from the fifth century B. C. Dentistry declined in Europe after the early part of the Christian era. The Arabs kept up the Greek art, however, and late in the sixteenth century the protection of teeth became common in Europe. Pare, physician of Charles IX, was the first to transplant living teeth. He filled ordinary teeth with cork and lead, but used gold for royalty. Surely there is nothing new but what is old.

DEFIANCE of Senator Aldrich and denial of his statement in regard to the tariff bill and his right to control tariff legislation were the significant features of the speech delivered yesterday by Senator Cummins, of Iowa, in support of his income tax amendment. It was an able speech, delivered calmly and with no apparent effort to arouse feeling against the Senate dictator, but it was firmly insisted that Mr. Aldrich's statements of what his bill will perform both as a revenue producer and a protective measure are unworthy of belief. The show of independence by Mr. Cummins angered Mr. Aldrich and caused him to refer sneeringly to the apparent coalition between the democrats and the independents, insistently charging that those who do not accept his tariff bill and his statements concerning it are no republicans. Mr. Aldrich is an old hand at applying the party lash.

At the Garman Hospital, in New York, last week, Dr. Willy Meyer performed for the first time in this country an operation upon a human being in which the cavity of the thorax was opened, while the lungs were kept inflated from an air chamber at pressure greater than the atmosphere. This new appliance is known as the positive air pressure apparatus modeled after that of Professor Sauerbruch. It consists of two chambers with a door connecting and another door connecting the smaller chamber with the outer air. The chambers are lined with rubber and are connected by pipes and valves with an electric air compressor. The operating table is so arranged that the patient lies with his head within the main chamber, a rubber neckpiece fitting tightly, so as to prevent the escape of the compressed air.

THE Wisconsin Assembly has advanced to third reading and will pass the bill exempting employers from the lure of the stenographers. The bill, which was introduced by Assemblyman Ledvins, the republican whip, who is the youngest member of the legislative and a bachelor as well, provides that all transactions between an employer and his stenographer shall be accorded the same legal exemption as transactions between a church communicant and the priest to whom he confesses, a lawyer and client or a physician and patient. By this exemption, the timid Wisconsinans believe the power of a stenographer to gain a hold over an employer is destroyed.

From Washington.
(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)
Washington, April 22.

Eighteen pages of the tariff bill were read in the Senate yesterday. There are 302 pages in the bill. If the same rate of apparent progress is made in the future the entire measure will have been read over by the 10th of May. On the face of that statement it looks as though rapid work was being done towards the passage of the bill, but, as a matter of fact, not one paragraph to which there is an objection in the mind of any senator has been acted upon. There are thirty speeches yet to be made on chemicals, and thirty "seraps" yet to be fought on it. It is expected that things will not move smoothly from now on but it is not to be forgotten when the Senate gets down to the real discussion of such subjects as income tax, hides, lumber, oil etc., Senator Bailey expects to make a four-hour speech on Monday on his income tax amendment and there are a number of others who will take equally as long to present their views. It is expected that the Senate will begin next week to meet at ten o'clock in the morning and to sit late in the evening in order to give opportunity to everybody to say what they want to say. Senator Aldrich still thinks that the bill may reach the final vote about June first.

The mysterious "Woman in Blue" who haunted President Roosevelt during the last four years of his administration, is now camping on the trail of President Taft. She made her appearance at the White House late Wednesday afternoon, attempted to see the president, failed in the attempt, and disappeared. Whether she left the city or merely went away for the day and will return again to press her mysterious cause, the attaches of the White House do not know. The "Woman in Blue" is Mrs. Lucy Lee, of Great Neck, Long Island. She has a family, is well connected, well to do, and apparently should be satisfied with life. She is possessed, however, with an uncontrollable desire to follow the president of the United States and imagines if she can lay her case before him he will right some fancied wrong.

Capt. George C. Burnett, of the signal corps, United States army, who shot himself in the head at the Laurel, Md., sanitarium yesterday, died this morning. He had been suffering from nervous breakdown, and feared he was going insane. For the past five years he had been in command of Fort Wood, N. Y.

Attorney General Wickersham is today hearing reasons advanced why the government should abandon its "trust-busting" suit against the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad. The railroad company takes the ground that there never has been sufficient evidence to warrant action but that if the government is determined to maintain the suit, the proceedings should be pushed in justice to the railroad company. Recommendation has been made to the attorney general for an abandonment of the case. He is inclined to favor the recommendation.

The State Department received a dispatch today from Consul General George M. West, at Vancouver, B. C. reporting the seizure of the American fishing schooner, Charles L. Woodbury and saying that a detailed report of the incident had been sent the department by mail. Until this report is received the department will take no action. The principle involved in the seizure of the American vessel is probably the question of the three mile limit, although the adjustment of the differences between the United States and Great Britain concerning the fishing privileges of Hecate Strait may have a bearing on the case. The State Department has asked Great Britain for a statement of its attitude with reference to Hecate Strait and is awaiting a reply.

President Taft had a final conference today with the Liberian commission, which sails on Saturday for the black republic to study the social and political and industrial conditions of the country. The commission is composed of Roland P. Faulkner, Dr. George Sale, and Emmett J. Scott, the latter colored. Scott is Booker T. Washington's secretary and was appointed on the commission at the special recommendation of Washington.

Wireless messages are being sent out with the hope of picking up the revenue cutter Tahama, with instructions from the State Department to proceed to Turkish waters to take care of Americans and American interests that might be in danger by the revolution. The cutter is now on her way from Baltimore to Puget Sound by way of Suez. She is expected to reach the Azores on the 29th and Gibraltar on May 1. Further instructions will be sent at Gibraltar. The independent oil producers, which means those not affiliated with the Standard Oil, were present in large numbers today when the Senate committee on finance gave them a hearing. They asked for a duty of 50 per cent ad valorem on crude petroleum and its products and for the removal of the drawback features of the Payne bill so far as they affect oil.

The president received 100 independent oil producers and refiners at the White House this afternoon. They were introduced by Mr. Vreeland, of New York.

Sixty-first Congress.

Washington, April 21.

SENATE.

The earth and earthworm schedule of the tariff bill was taken up in the Senate today. Not much satisfactory progress was made with it for the reason that almost every paragraph was objected to by one senator or another with the result that action was postponed. Gas returns were made the subject of an interesting little political debate between Mr. Bailey and members on the republican side. Mr. Bailey noticed that in these articles the Senate had inserted a rate of 30 per cent ad valorem instead of the House rate of 83 cents. Mr. Bailey frankly confessed that he did not know what a gas return was, but he elicited the information from Mr. Aldrich that the proposed Senate rate was three times greater than the rate in the Payne bill. Mr. Bailey then proceeded to read the republicans a lecture on the character of the tariff revisions they were offering the country.

Mr. Root reviewed the history of the tariff on that article and said it showed that the present tariff ought to be at least 20 per cent ad valorem. At Mr. Aldrich's request the item was held over for later consideration.

The committee then took up carbon for electric lighting, which was 35 per cent in the Payne bill, and is 70 cents per hundred feet in the Aldrich bill.

Messrs. Aldrich and Bailey engaged in a cross-fire that verged on sectional lines.

HOUSE.

With an attendance of less than a third of the members, the House was in session nearly an hour today. Samuel L. Gilmore was sworn in as the member from the second Louisiana district. Speaker Cannon appointed as the committee on enrolled bills: Messrs. Wilson (rep. Ill.), Moore (rep. Pa.), Elkins (rep. Mo.), Anthony (rep. Kansas), and Ralney (dem. Ill.). Dixon (dem. Ind.), and Willett (dem. N. Y.).

The members accepted an invitation to attend a celebration of the 120th anniversary of the inauguration of George Washington at Alexandria, Va., April 30. Mr. Carlisle supplemented the invitation with a patriotic speech in which he said that the beginning of the revolution was at a conference held by Washington and others in the church ward of Christ Church, Alexandria, on a Sunday morning after the services.

There was a wrangle over the question of instructing the House members of the conference committee on the census bill, but no action was taken.

Redeker had surrendered the credentials recently given him by the Maryland conference and has signed a paper promising not to preach or perform any of the functions of a minister until he has acquired a good character in some other church.

A board of inquiry will convene at the Mare Island Navy-Yard today to investigate the case of Lieutenant F. W. Osborne, of the monitor Cheyenne, upon charges of "conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman," preferred by Naval Constructor H. A. Evans. Evans declared he saw Osborne kissing Mrs. Evans in the Evans's home last December. This resulted in Evans getting a divorce.

The latest from the sultan of Turkey's troubled realm is that northern Macedonia is in revolt; that 1,500 Albanians have killed their colonel and a number of Young Turks, and that the committee is organizing to put down this uprising. Civil war is declared to be in prospect in Turkey. More alarming reports are coming from Asia Minor, where the anti-Christian feeling is increasing in violence. The sultan is still on the throne, and efforts toward a compromise are being made.

As was stated in the Gazette, a tornado struck Cleveland at 12:35 o'clock yesterday which lasted only five minutes. Five persons were killed, a score fatally injured, and a hundred hurt, while property damage estimated at $500,000 was caused. The storm broke with hardly a minute's warning, and so terrific was the wind which accompanied the driving rain and hail that roofs were blown scores of feet, houses and barns and even more sturdy constructed structures were demolished, telephone and telegraph poles were snapped off, and wires were blown across streets in parts of the city.

The consideration of the tariff bill in paragraphs was begun in the Senate yesterday afternoon under an agreement whereby all paragraphs exciting contest are to be passed over until the first reading of the bill is completed. The Senate bill reviewed 18 pages of the tariff bill, covering the chemicals, paint and drugs schedule. Senator Aldrich taunted the southern senators by stating that there was a demand for protection of cottonseed oil and said he had been appealed to by such producers from the south. Mr. Tillman retorted that he "didn't represent such people." Mr. Money joined in a declaration that the south did not want protection on cottonseed oil.

Virginia News.

The Richmond council committee on finance has recommended an appropriation of $25,000 for the purchase of a site for the Battle Abbey.

Rev. L. A. Snow, pastor of Prince William Circuit Methodist Episcopal Church, South, died Tuesday night after a brief illness of bright's disease in his home at Brentsville.

According to a bulletin of the state health department, there are 10,000 cases of typhoid fever and 1,000 deaths yearly in Virginia. The health department will wage a crusade this summer against the disease fever, and wants all county and city health departments to co-operate.

Capt. John L. Thompson, one of the best known residents of Clarke county, died at his home in Berryville, yesterday, after a long and severe illness caused by a cancer, in the eighty-first year of his age. He served throughout the civil war in the Confederate army as captain in the Fifty-fifth Virginia Regiment.

The Southern Methodist Educational Conference convened in the Ward Street Methodist Church, in Richmond, last night, for a three days' session, during which some of the most prominent educators and ministers of the Methodist church in the south will address the conference. Governor Swanson delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by Dr. Kilgo, president of Trinity College.

The most sweeping anti-gambling order ever issued in Norfolk is now in effect. It has been read to the police force by Chief Kizer, and strictly prohibits gaming at cards or craps games and all other games of chance, and the policemen who fail to see that it is enforced in their jurisdiction will pay dearly for it. Even grab-bags at church fairs can no longer exist. The police have notified all members of the profession that their business must cease.

Jailer J. William McGee, of Bedford, was attacked by two prisoners while in the jail Monday night and one of them escaped. Mr. McGee went into the jail to give some clothing to prisoners, when Pless Morris, a big negro, jumped on him, choked him and took his gun and fled with another negro named John Henry Smith. Morris was captured and taken back to jail. Smith was arrested several weeks ago in Rosnoke. This is the second time that McGee has been attacked by Morris.

D. A. R.

The Daughters of the American Revolution now in session in Washington, will today, by their votes, determine the contest between Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Story for president-general.

Donations to Continental Memorial Hall received yesterday in pledges and cash and already subscribed amounted to nearly $50,000.

The Virginia chapter has re-elected Mrs. S. W. Jamison, of Roanoke, as its state regent, and Mrs. Harper as vice regent. The Virginia state chapter is composed of 22 chapters.

The sons of the American Revolution gave a reception last night to the Daughters in the First Congregational Church, at which nearly all the state regents and national officers were present, with hundreds of other delegates.

Washington, D. C., April 22.—Today is election day with the D. A. R. Congress. Speeches, noise, tumult, applause, lobbying and button-holing reigned supreme at Memorial Hall today. The campaign that has been waged for months by the "conservatives" against the administration ideas of President General Mrs. McLean has been brought to a head in the balloting of the delegates to choose her successor.

When the convention was called to order at 10:30 o'clock there was a restless feeling astr among the delegates and the hum of conversation in the hall and lobbies could hardly be stopped long enough to allow the chaplain's prayer to be heard. Then came the nominating speeches and these will probably last until the daughters take a recess at 2 o'clock to attend a reception at the White House by president and Mrs. Taft.

A careful canvass of all the states represented at the congress from expressions of opinion at the various state meetings indicates that Mrs. Story, of New York, the "conservative" candidate, will receive the solid vote of 15 states and the majority of a divided vote from 10 others.

Mrs. Scott, of Illinois, the administration candidate for president-general, according to this canvass will receive the solid vote of 11 states and a majority of the split votes in 10 others.

There are 1,401 votes to be cast in 43 states, the District of Columbia and 2 territories. Both sides say that the election will be the closest ever held in the history of the organization.

Ten vice-presidents from the general officers will be elected besides the general officers. There is little opposition to any of the candidates for these offices.

When the time for the election arrived Mrs. John O. Ames, of Illinois, nominated Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Chas. H. Messary, of Massachusetts, nominated Mrs. Story. Mrs. Story's name was applauded nearly three minutes while Mrs. Scott received less than one minute of cheering and the administration forces charged that Mr. Story's followers had "packed" the galleries. The seconds came from many states and most of them were split.

The balloting will not be begun until after the president's reception this afternoon and it is thought that the votes will not be counted until early in the morning.

Ice Gorge at Niagara.
Niagara Falls, N. Y., April 22.—Dynamite is being used today in an effort to free the lower Niagara river from its icy fetters. Great charges of the explosive varying from 500 to 1,000 pounds are being buried in the ice pack and fired in the hope of releasing the jam. Thus far the proceeding has been slow. The general situation along the river is improved today. The water has fallen about two feet and the pack has settled down about that distance.

Yesterday's Baseball Results.
The following are the results of yesterday's league games:
American League—Boston 6, Philadelphia 2. Other games postponed on account of rain.
National League—St. Louis 9, Cincinnati 5. Other games postponed.

Object to Strong Medicines.
Many people object to taking the strong medicines usually prescribed by physicians for rheumatism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

LETTER TO EMANUEL GOLDSMITH
Alexandria, Va.
Dear Sir: Clothing is just like paint: It fits or it doesn't; it wears or it doesn't; it dries and water or not; and goes out of fashion.

What do we wear clothes for? Did you ever think of it? Different persons have different reasons, no doubt, but one points Devoe for beauty, to be in the fashion, and keep out water.

Fashion says: we all paint. There is beauty in paint; we paint a good deal for that. And buildings are costly and fashionable; put on a water-proof coat or three coats of paint, and your buildings last as long as you keep them dry. It costs nothing to paint; it costs your buildings not to.

Devoe is the paint that lasts; disappointing paints are the paints that cost.

Today's Telegraphic News

Trouble in Turkey.

London, April 22.—A report emanated today from the St. James Club, the headquarters of both English and foreign diplomats, that the sultan is expected soon to flee to Paris.

Vienna, April 22.—The reports from Turkey, while still conflicting, generally tend to indicate that the agreement reported to have been reached yesterday between the sultan and the Young Turks, was nullified at the last moment as a result of the sultan's receiving encouragement from Berlin.

An increasing number of the Young Turks are today demanding that the sultan abdicate. The besiegers maneuvered all night, and are today reported to have placed their guns in such a position as to attack the Yildiz Kiosk with the minimum of danger to the rest of the town.

Five thousand soldiers are guarding the sultan's palace, and they have been aroused to fanaticism through an appeal to their religious faith. Should a fight occur, the Yildiz Kiosk is sure to be the centre of it. The defenders have sworn to die before surrendering to the Young Turks.

The Young Turks have prepared a list of between 200 and 300 leaders of the mutiny, who will be executed if found. Most of these leaders have fled from the city and are in hiding in small Turkish and Asia Minor towns.

Reports from the Monastir district of the Albanian revolt are still vague. The whole of northern Macedonia is affected and nearly ten thousand Albanians are up in arms against the action of Young Turks.

Smyrna April 22.—Disorders throughout Asia Minor are being greatly increased by fugitive soldiers and priests from Constantinople, who are finding a vent to their terror by ravaging the country, burning villages and murdering defenceless people.

Yesterday's estimate of 10,000 dead, which doubled the number previously given out, is now declared too small. Constantinople, April 22.—The sultan is declared to day to be on the verge of a physical collapse from fear and anxiety.

In the hope of gaining favor with the Young Turks, the rabble of Constantinople has started what amounts almost to a systematic campaign of assassination of leading reactionaries.

Sofia, April 22.—The Young Turk detachment today crossed the Sea of Marmora, occupying the Asiatic side of Constantinople, thus completing the investment of the city. They have already invested the Asiatic shores across from Constantinople.

Smyrna, April, 22.—Missionaries in Hadjin, among whom are five American women, are in danger today, according to a message received from Miss Lambert, one of the Americans. All of the surrounding villages and a large part of Hadjin have been burned. The message says: "The bloody riots reported yesterday in Antioch, Eridje and throughout Aleppo, were renewed today, while to the west of Alexandria the situation is the worst since the trouble began. The rioters at Ayas, on the western coast of the Gulf of Alexandretta, broke into the jail and released more than 100 prisoners who immediately joined the mob in the work of murder and pillage. Five thousand people are homeless at Turanus, where 200 people have been slain and 800 houses burned. Kirikan, southeast of Alexandretta has been destroyed."

The Ex-President in Africa.
Mombasa, British East Africa, April 22.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt will probably get his first bag of African game tomorrow. Changes in the hunting plans of the Roosevelt party were made today, as a result of which the party will spend a week in camp on the Kapiti Plains before proceeding to Nairobi and the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease. The hunting party left Mombasa this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and the members will disembark tonight and, after a short rest, the hunting on Kapiti Plains will begin. If the present plans do not miscarry, the colonel will do his first shooting tomorrow. Antelopes, ostriches, and other small game abound on the Kapiti Plains, and Mr. Roosevelt anticipates a good bag. A special train, decorated with American flags, bore the party from Mombasa.

The Storm in Cleveland.
Cleveland, April 22.—Three deaths during the night brought out the list of fatalities in yesterday's storm up to five today. Fifteen persons were seriously injured, several of whom may die. Nearly 100 buildings were entirely demolished and scores of chimneys were blown down. The property loss is estimated at $1,000,000. The city's churches and school buildings were the greatest sufferers. The storm ripped the steeples and chimneys and shattered costly colored windows in thirty places of worship. Seventeen schools had walls, roofs, cornices or windows blown in. All that saved heavy loss of life here was the fact that the storm struck while the children were dismissed for the noon recess. Three schools were struck by lightning, but they were saved by the fire department.

Wheat.
Chicago, April 22.—What looked like the expected renewal of the bear attack on the wheat market began at the top of the gong, putting the price of all wheat futures on the toboggan.

The fact that James A. Patton was out of the city evidently inspired the bear raid. Trading was for enormous and most of the orders were to sell. July wheat slumped nearly two cents in the first fifteen minutes of trading today. It opened at 1.13, dropped to 1.12, and then to 1.11.

May wheat at 1.10 dropped to 1.22, the lowest price in many weeks.

A fall drive by the bears just before the close pushed prices of all wheat futures down still further. All closed at the bottom prices of the day, May 1.21; July 1.09; and 8 p. m. at 1.02.

NO MORE DANDRUFF.
Newbro's Herpicide Destroys the Pesticidal Cause of Annoying Dandruff.

Does your head itch? Is your coat or dress full of white flakes after dressing your hair? That's the effect of dandruff. Is your hair thinning? Are you beginning to get bald spots? Are you already, in fact, rapidly becoming bald? If so, that is the effect of a nasty little parasite that burrows in at the root of the hair, and throws up the scaly dandruff that eats of the hair at the root.

Science's latest discovery is a destroyer of that pestiferous germ. That destroyer is contained in no other hair preparation on earth than Newbro's Herpicide. Try it, and be convinced. A delightful dressing.

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents Two sizes 50c. and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Plan Frustrated.

Mercer, Pa., April 22.—What is thought to be an attempt to free James Boyle, a 14-year-old kidnapper of Billy Whittle, from Mercer county jail, was frustrated early today, when Watchman Robert Fruit discovered a 20-foot ladder standing against the wall and directly beneath the window of Boyle's cell. Fruit immediately gave the alarm. The identity of the men who placed the ladder against the wall is not known.

New York Stock Market.

New York, April 22.—There was continued improvement in the trading sentiment all through the first hour, with unusual regularity marking the upward movement in prices. The strong continued all through the last half hour of the forenoon with demand increasing as higher price levels were reached.

SCHULTZ'S EFFECTS.

As has been stated the trunk that belonged to Walter F. Schultz, the Chicago artist who was murdered on the confines of Alexandria on the night of the 6th of March, has been found in the home of Mrs. Alice Burch, in Washington. She is the widow of John L. Burch, who recently committed suicide by jumping from the railroad bridge at 24 and I streets, at whose house, 341 24 street northeast, Schultz had a room. Mrs. Burch states that Schultz told her he was going to Baltimore, and she supposed he was there at the time the murder was committed. Mrs. Burch says he came to her house about December 1 and left the Saturday morning after the inauguration. That night he was murdered and robbed. Schultz told Mrs. Burch he was going to Baltimore. He was not a drinking man, she says, and was very quiet and regular in his habits. The trunk contained articles of wearing apparel and a number of pictures, several of them having been painted by Schultz.

Richard Pines, Eugene Dorsey, Calvin Johnson and Henry Smith, who have been indicted for the murder of Schultz, will be brought to this city Saturday when a day for their trial in the Corporation Court will be set.

MR. CATON IN RICHMOND.
"I have been to Mecklenburg, to Greenville and Brunswick during the last two or three days," said Colonel James R. Caton, of Alexandria, one of the aspirants for lieutenant-governor, "and the reception and encouragement I have received has given me more cause to hope for success than I had expected to receive in those sections. I had a large crowd to hear me at all points, and I spent a good deal of time in getting in touch with the people there selves."

"I shall leave for Alexandria this evening and will soon be able to announce my itinerary for the 9th. I hope to be able to visit every county in which I have not been so far. The situation is looking unusually good to me at this time."

Colonel Caton was at the capitol talking with his old friends and discussing matters in general. His health appears to be very much better than it was two years ago.—[Richmond News Leader
